3699	23 February 1999	SELL	the real photographer, take not! with advancement of digital tech, how can you differentiate yourself from instance photographers who just point & shoot using latest auto SLRs? if you challenge and wanted to know how great pictures were made prior to SLRs days, you might to own a rangefinder leica. A 1959 Leica IIIf could be yours if you could appreciate how much it worth, though not rare, the model is hard to find here, let alone in good working condition. it takes brilliant pictures with vibrant color and contrast, which only "the real photographer" can make it. - just me <yghani@hotmail.com>
3700	23 February 1999	SELL	CHEAP!!! Tamron 70-300 mm f/4-5.6 LD for NIKON mount. Mint condition, still under warranty.
